

This 6 day camp focuses on issues relevant to young people. The SFL Summer Camp addresses challenges facing youth including social justice and equality issues. It combines learning with cooperative recreation activities and lots of guaranteed fun!

Young people between the ages of 13-16 who are daughters and sons of union members are eligible to attend.

WHAT DOES IT COST?

Registration is $500 per camper ($600 for non-affiliates). Full payment must accompany completed registration in order to qualify.

Some affiliated unions subsidize this cost- check with your union local.

Arrangement for payment by the union is the responsibility of the camper's parent(s)/guardian(s).

The SFL covers the cost of wages for Recreation Staff and Youth Activity Coordinators (YACs) and other expenses relating to course material and activities.

Arrangements can be made to ensure no one is excluded because of cost. Limited scholarships are available.
